CEDARVILLE

YEAR ONE, 93

YEAR ONE at CEDARVILLE '93

We're glad you are here. We anticipate great contributions from the Class of '97 and from new members of other classes as well.

This collection of small group pictures has been prepared to help you remember what we trust has been the start of an exciting experience - your time at Cedarville.

We anticipate that the friends and experiences from the 'Ville will be cherished and nurtured for the rest of your life.

We will be in touch.

Friendship Neglected

He was new,
Transferred from another school.
Trying hard to fit in.
I had seen him around.
In a class we shared.
In the cafeteria.
Walking across the parking lot.
But I didn't know him.

So that afternoon
when he passed me in a crowded hall
and said hello,
I somehow felt awkward,
and I turned my head.
As if I hadn't seen him.
Or heard him.
But he knew.
He must have noticed.

And I felt the distance between us grow.

The next time I saw him in the middle of that chaotic hall, he turned his head first and looked away.

The distance between us grew greater.

Now I wonder what sort of friendship might have formed had I looked his way
and returned his greeting.
What if I had simply said hello?

I may never know.
Because when I see him,
he turns his head.
And I look away.

The distance between us grows even more.

Ready or Not

by Steve Lawhead

College...I'm here!
Yet the thought doesn't thrill me.
Could it be that after all these years of planning, saving,
 preparing...
I'm not ready?

Today I feel like a grown-up child—
 I'm caught in a wrinkle in time.
I want to move forward,
 to grab with both hands
 the future I see stretched before me.
But to reach for the future
I must pull away from the past.

So I'm stuck
 in the twilight zone of change, having left the old behind,
 but not yet prepared for the new.

I'm an immigrant on foreign soil.
 Everyone knows I'm new,
It bluster from my face and shows in my uncertain stride.

I smile and nod my way through initiation day
 of unfamiliar faces, hoping my facade of self-assurance holds up a little longer.

Dinner...lines of people
 Moving, waiting.
 Stop and go.
Like multi-sectioned insects with a hundred heads and twice as many legs.

Inching forward.
Flailing. Ravenous.
And I'm no different.
I move when others move,
 choose what they choose,
 devour what they devour.
Is this what college is like?
A four-year feeding frenzy?

What's my number? What's my name?
Either will do, it's all the same to the campus computer.
212 Dorm Room, 119c English Lit,
59 P.E. Locker,
505-23-1970 Social Security,
0590220110 Bank Account,
101 Biology, 4708 Lab partner's phone,
36-22-3 Bike Lock,
87033-241 Student I.D.,
Row 49, Seat 11.
I need a calculator to discover who I am.

Does everyone feel this way?
Lost, alone.
Homesick for people who know them by name?
There, I've said the word I've dreaded saying, vowed I'd never utter.

"Children get homesick, not adults."
Where'd I get a notion like that?
Being away from home and missing it has little to do with age, more with the quality of life left behind.
To be homesick is a compliment to those you love.

It's 8 o'clock and all's well.
I'm sitting down
to an evening with my family, though they're 2,000 miles away and I'm in the library surround by staring strangers.

Should I start a chain reaction...
walk from table to table,
 introducing myself,
 getting everyone doing it?
I smile at the thought.
It isn't in me
 to do something like that.

Still the idea's there:
 a bold thought.
What next, bold actions?
Maybe I'm changing already.

Change, I conclude, can be welcomed.
Every change is a challenge to grow,
 to become the person
 I am meant to be.

The next four years will bring many changes.
But let them come,
I'll be ready.
